GRANTS & CONTRACTS

- 2011-2016 (Co-Investigator) Mentoring Diverse Students in Health Disparities Research (NIH/NIMHD, R25; $1,724,175)
A 5-year IBACH Training and Mentoring Program will enroll a total of 40 undergraduate and graduate students underrepresented in research to pursue higher level academic or career opportunities that contribute to reducing health disparities.
- 2010-2014 (Co-Investigator) Investing in America's Future: Mentoring Researchers in Latino Health Disparities (NIH/NHLBI, R25; $1,019,103)
This program involves a series of trainings and mentoring activities for new Latino tenure-track researchers interested in Latino health and health disparities research as related to cardiovascular disease (CVD) and other conditions associated with CVD risk factors.
- 2006-2013 (Principal Investigator) San Diego Hispanic Community Health Study/Study of Latinos (HCHS/SOL) (Contract Number HHSN268200625237C; $12,339,304)
The San Diego Hispanic Community Health Study is a landmark multi-center epidemiological study that seeks to ascertain the prevalence of and risk factors for CVD and a number of health conditions in the Latino population in San Diego's South Bay as well as 3 other US cities.
- 2009-2014 (Co-Investigator) San Diego Prevention Research Center: Obesity Prevention and Control in the Latino Community. PI Elder (CDC, 5U48DP001917-04; $615,000).
The mission of the SDPRC is to conduct research and education to promote healthy lifestyles and environments to improve the health of Latino populations in San Diego.
- 2010-2015 (Co-Principal Investigator) Clinical Behavioral Approach to Overweight Latino Youth (NIH/NIDDK, R01; $1,833,199).
This randomized controlled trial will test the efficacy of a cultural and linguistically appropriate, evidence-based intervention to lower Body Mass Index (BMI) or slow weight gain among overweight 6-9 year-old Mexican-American children randomly sampled from a large community health center providing services to low and medium income families in a US-Mexico border community
- 2007-2012 (Principal Investigator) South Bay Partnership to Reduce Diabetes and CVD in Latinos – Project EXPORT (NIH/NCMHD, P20; $6,805,138).
San Diego Partnership to Reduce CVD and Diabetes in Latinos is a tri-lateral collaboration designed to create a Center of Excellence for Latino Research. The partnership includes The Institute for Behavioral and Community Health Studies (IBACH) at SDSU, The Preventive Cardiology Division of UCSD and the Center for Latino Research and Health promotion at SYHC. Major goals for the effort include a randomized intervention for chronic disease and career development program for Latino researchers.
- 2009-2011 (Co-Investigator) Obesity Prevention and Control in the Latino Community – Latin American Chronic Disease Prevention Network (CDC, U48; $1,190,485)
This study is an extension of the San Diego Prevention Research Center (SDPRC; John Elder, PI). Investigators from the SDPRC will collaborate with the Mexican Ministry of Health's National Institute of Public Health (Instituto Nacional de Salud Publica (INSP)), the largest single chronic disease research entity in Mexico, to conduct research and develop practice-based networks focused in the prevention of chronic disease, and particularly obesity, with Mexican and United States - based Latino-focused counterparts. These applications will include local, regional, and international efforts on both sides of the US-Mexico border, and beyond.

- 2008-2013 (Co-Investigator) Comprehensive SDSU/UCSD Cancer Center Partnership
(National Cancer Institute U54 CA132384, $7,911,523)
The overall goals of the Comprehensive SDSU-UCSD Cancer Partnership build on the progress to date and are to enhance cancer research and research training at SDSU; increase the effectiveness of the UCSD Cancer Center (UCSD-CC) in research, research training and career development related to minorities; and to continue the development of effective research, education, and outreach programs that will have an impact on the elimination of cancer disparities.
- 2005-2010 (Principal Investigator) Redes En Acción II:
(NCI, Subcontract from Baylor University; $806,250).
The National Latino Cancer Research Network is a National Cancer Institute-funded initiative to combat cancer among Latinos.
